The Bethanian 1929 Volume XXVIII. Published by the STUDENT BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

Picturing the Life of Bethany College

BETHANY WEST VIRGINA

Foreword

With the hope that some word or picture herein contained may summon up and help you retain memories of your life at Bethany, the Bethanian Staff of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-Nine presents this volume.

Its editors have not thought themselves able to register every event in proper perspective and proportion, but simply have endeavored to note the main streams of Bethany activity.

A local motif and a nature theme have been selected for the background of this record. The editors trust that their gestures in this direction will be sufficient, at least, to arouse recognition of the wealth of Bethany's natural surroundings and her traditions.

CONTENTS

Bernal Robinson Weimer

Whose aggressive support of movements toward a greater Bethany, whose bounteous service in campus activities, whose creative interest in the pulse of student life, and whose keen, practical mind and constructive scientific spirit in matters scholastic, merit the dedication of this book as a material symbol of an appreciation which is, at best, somewhat intangible.

DEDICATION

The Bell Song

A tower on the hillside that prays to the sky, A Bell in the tower, and to us below, A summons repeated by Echo's reply—

Melodious monotone, steady and slow.

In memory vibrating each of us hears

The mentor that speaks from the old tower's height, Entreating our loyalty, shaming our fears,

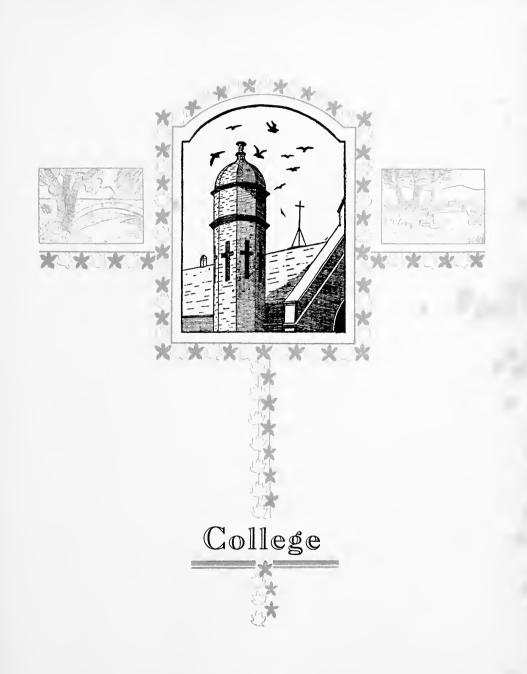

Our solace when vanquished, our strength in the fight,

Upraised is each hand while together we sing In praise of the college that stands on the hill, And pledge that so long as the old Bell shall ring, Her faith we will cherish, her precepts fulfill.

The Bell in the tower is ringing,

And Bethany's children respond to her call; They march on the corridor singing,

"O Beth'ny, we love thee, thou fairest of all."

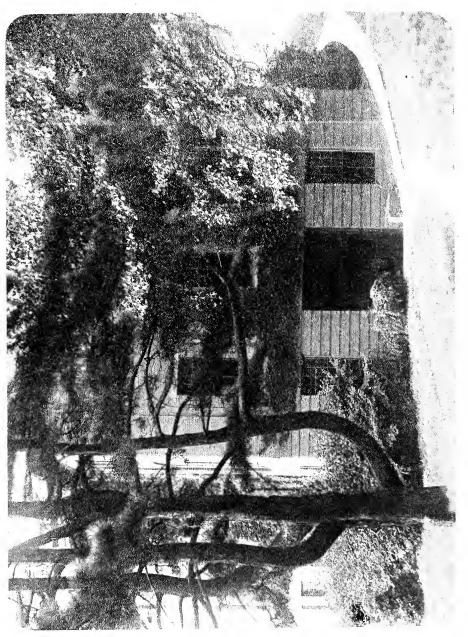

"How strange and wild to hear the tower Suddenly take life and speak the hour,"

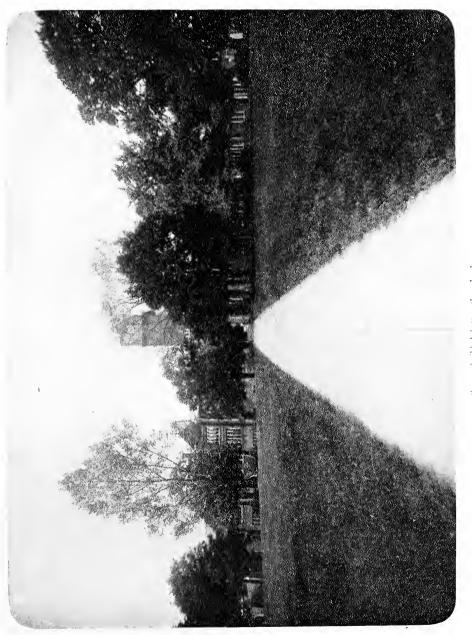

"Serencly we have climbed the stairway To deal in strange enchantments and potent truths."

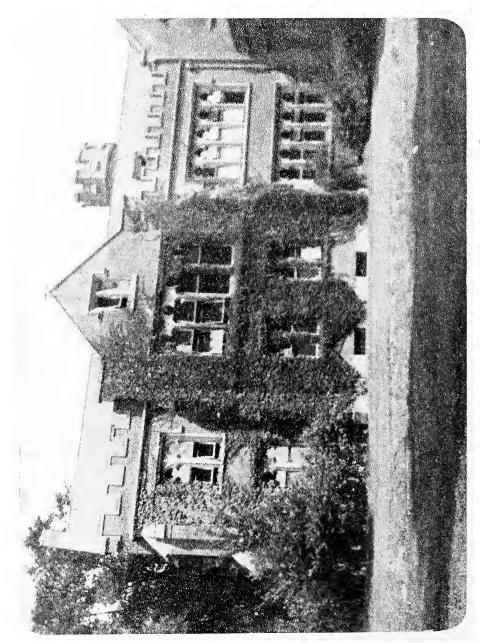

".....a small college, but there are those who love it."

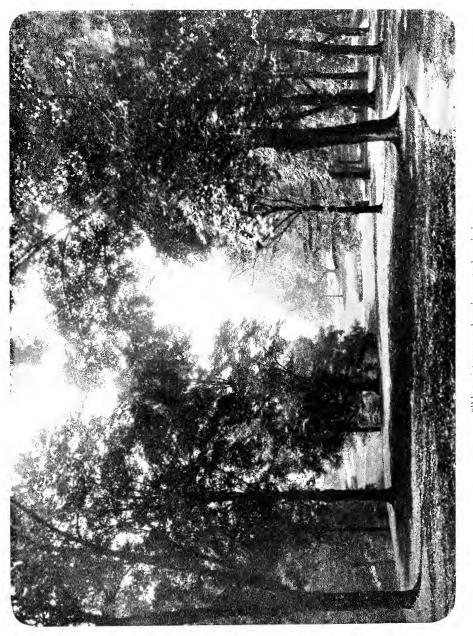

"......builded better than he knew."

"A storehouse where we may delve in thaumaturgeries while sunlight glints on warm stone."

"A pleasing land of drowsy head it was."

"Where interwoven branches spread a shade Of soft cool beryl like the evening seas."

Administration

"GOVERNMENT IS A TRUST....." —Henry Clay. ND WHAT MAKES THE ESSENTIAL QUALITY OF A UNIVERSITY? YEARS AGO IN NEW ENGLAND IT WAS SAID THAT A LOG BY THE ROADSIDE, WITH A STUDENT SITTING ON ONE END OF IT AND MARK HOPKINS SITTING ON THE OTHER, WAS A UNIVERSITY. IT IS THE QUALITY OF ITS MEN THAT MAKES THE QUALITY OF A UNIVERSITY.''

-William James.

The Crusade Continues

THE Bethany College Crusade for $1,000,000 which was launched in the fall of 1927 still continues although the active Crusade program came to a close during the middle of this college year. During the active months of the Crusade there were nearly fifty great Bethany College banquets held in various churches and hotels over the Bethany were challenge of the Church college and the immediate call of Bethany were presented at these gatherings. Thousands of new friends were made for the institution. Nearly five thousand made pledges to the Crusade program.

In the months ahead the Crusade will be continued under the direction of President Goodnight and the treasurer's office. Mr. W. N. Hanson, who is serving Bethany as a financial secretary, will carry forward this part of the work. Collection of the pledges will be made and new pledges will be secured. The Crusade continues!

One of the results of the Crusade is the new Phillips Hall that is now in the process of construction. It will give to Bethany a residence hall for young women that will be without a superior in this section of the country. A new section is being built and when this has been completed the present Phillips Hall will be entirely rebuilt. The finished building will provide accommodations for over a hundred girls. In addition it will become the social and recreational center for young women. A hospital section, attractive parlors, a large recreation hall, guest rooms, and kitchenettes will be some of the features of the completed building.

Bethany must continue to go forward. Her heritage is too worthwhile to forfeit it. Her program of quality will be carried on, hence the Crusade for a better Bethany continues!

Although the Student Board has no ultimate jurisdiction in matters of administration, through it the sentiment of the student body may be expressed, and an earnest attempt toward obtaining real co-operation between executives and students can be furthered. The place of this body in the life of the college, though evinced in different intensities at different times, is quite real and worthy.

Student Board of Publication

In carrying on its work throughout the past four years the Student Board of Publications has had a two-fold task; that of producing a suitable type of Collegian and Bethanian, and that of paying off the rather large debt incurred by former boards. The administration of this program has been made possible through the careful budgeting of finances, the good patience of staffs of both publications, and the co-operative spirit of Bethauv students.

Four years ago this debt assumed the amazing proportions of approximately 82,700. Within the next two years this figure was cut to 81,368.57. During the 1927-8 term it was reduced to 8307.55. At the close of this year the debt will have been cleared, and the future work of the Board will not be hampered by the nemesis of past obligations.

The Bethanian

VOLUME XXVIII

THE annual publication, The Bethanian, is an attempt to record as completely as possible the personnel and activities of Bethany College.

This volume, compiled by members of the Senior class with Junior assistants, and financed by the Student Board of Publications, has endeavored to register the events of the year chiefly by picturing the groups concerned. It has likewise interspersed among its pages as many local decorative suggestions as resources have permitted, in order that the reader may recall to mind a bit of the natural and traditional color associated with Bethany.

Varsity Debate

Under the able direction of Professor Bennett, the debate team of the school has had unusual success this past year. The home debates have been loyally supported by the student body, and the interest taken has been gratifying. Of the ten debates in which the Bethany team participated, only four were lost—and those by but one vote in each instance.

The recently organized class in debate, offered by Professor Bennett, has been of invaluable aid in discovering new material. Throughout the term thirty students have attended in the course.

The schedule consisted of the following debates:

The Current History Club

THE Current History Club is now entering its eighth year. It was formed and is being continued by those students who are especially interested in the interpretation of major movements of world affairs. In the spring of 1922, the organization was perfected by the simple process of offering a forum for student-faculty discussion of outstanding topics of wide importance. This plan has prevailed during the past seven years. That is, there has been no attempt to emphasize the Club's organization; there have been no officers, no dues, no membership roll.

The purpose remains the same as at the origin of the Club. It is intended that students who wish to contribute ideas and to gain information shall have perfect freedom from dictation as to programs and policies. While the entire purpose has not always been met, yet it is true that the Club fills a need. And to meet this need still more fully, it is proposed to elect student officers and to give student wishes entire preferment. The range of subjects will continue to be determined by the turn of events. But this year marks the turning of the future control of the Club into the hands of students, and the founding of greater opportunities for a more democratic, more inclusive meeting ground of student opinions.

The Memorial Building

The Bethany Church

Centennial Year

The Bethany Church was organized about the first of May, 1820. Its meetings were held in a building on the farm of Alexander Campbell, in or near the mill which stood a few hundred yards north of the road between Bethany and the Manston. This congregation included many of the members who had belonged to the first church at Brush Ran.

When a move was made it was to a stone building, located on the site of the present "old church", facing away from the road. For twenty years this building served as a meeting place for practically all members of the Christian Church between Wellsburg and the Pennsylvania state line; it was here that Alexander Campbell preached most of the sermons of the testing years of the Restoration Movement. Just before it was torn down, in 1851, Thomas Campbell delivered his farewell sermon on "The Two Great Commandments, Love to God and Love to Our Neighbors".

The "old church", as it is locally known, is now preserved for future generations through an endowment fund which provides for its upkeep and repair From its pulpit have undoubtedly been given some of the most influential messages that Protestants have heard in the past century. Presidents Campbell, Pendleton, Woolery, McLean, Cramblet, and Professors Milligan, Loos, Trible, McGarvey, and Richardson are among those whose voices once were raised in praise or exhortation, from its pulpit or common table. It is, then, not remarkable but merely natural that to thousands of Disciples throughout the world this church has come to be regarded as a historic shrine, filled with the memories of those who labored to give the world a restoration of primitive Christianity.

ROBERT T. BECK

Coming fresh from Yale, Mr. Beck, pastor of the Bethany Memorial Church, has given a new impetus to the work here. His deep conviction of the worth of Christianity to the individual, and his earnest desire to keep the church an active factor in student and community life, already have proclaimed him an admirable addition to Bethany's oreanization

Student Board of Deacons

This group, an honorary organization of men of the Junior and Senior classes, endeavors to aid the pastor and the Church Board of Deacons in initiating and executing various parts of the church program, which concern the students of the community. The Board has undertaken a series of open forums introducing men of note and authority in fields of interest to college students. Men like Robertson, Davis, Papini, Page, Rockefeller, Jr., and Eddy are in the past and future schedules.

The membership of the board is limited to ten; this number is kept constant each year by the addition of members nominated by committees from the Student Board of Governors, and the Board of Deacons, and elected to membership by the Senior Board of the Church.

An Expression of Purpose

We unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life thru a growing knowledge of God.

We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

Aiming to make for better fellowship among girls, and to help them toward a more complete mastery of the art of living sympathetically and helpfully with all people—this is the goal of the Young Woman's Christian Association of Bethany College.

Religious Drama

"We live by admiration, hope, and love", says Ruskin, and Matthew Arnold enforces this when he says that the self-conscious life of a human being is two-thirds emotional. Any plan of education which recognizes these truths and makes use of them as a means of developing the powers of mind and soul adds immeasurably to its value as an educational force. The Religious Drama is just such a power, especially at the hands of the church. Its chief function in life is to mirror the struggles and conflicts, the defeats and conquests, and thus develop the imagination, arouse the emotions, and challenge the will. Of all forms of art the drama gathers within its compass a richer harvest of spiritual values and sets them forth with a more vital touch than any other form of art.

The church today needs to capture and use every agency for enriching her forms of worship that will win the confidence and steady the ahiding interest of the young people in this sordid industrial age. The supreme task of the present time is to conserve and wisely direct the entire aesthetic life, to consecrate and chasten the imagination, purify the stream of the emotions, arouse response to beauty, courage and high spiritual endeavor to save our ideals from being crushed in the senseless scramble of industrialism. This is, generally speaking, the object of the work being done at Bethany College in the field of Religious Drama and Sacred Pageantry.

The Athletic Department

FURMAN L. NUSS Director and Coach of Athletics

During the past five years several notable changes in athletic policy have been effected at Bethany. The Board of Athletic Control has grown into some of the duties of the former graduate manager and its alumni representation has faded out. The head coach has inherited the control of business and correspondence which were formerly in the hands of the graduate manager. Schedules and contracts are, therefore, approved by a more literal representation of students and faculty.

Bethany's policy has also been colored by the financial status of the department. By scheduling schools which can pay attractive guarantees, the debt of the athletic department has been reduced to one-fourth the original amount.

By action of both the college and the Tri-State Athletic Conference, in which we have had continuous membership, professionalism has been eradicated from our teams. Success in this move, which has been in the spirit of straight out amateurism and not in merely covering up suspicious cases, has weakened our football teams but has strengthened us in neighboring colleges' respect. We are satisfied.

The Physical Education Department

WILLIAM T. LATTO Physical Education Director

A progressive revision of the physical education department at Bethany took place this year. The work is now under a separate department head and budget. The training is divided into two phases—theory and hygene, and practice. For the sake of a greater benefit and a more spontaneous interest, usage has turned chiefly to the playing of organized games; Mr. Latto has made innovations by introducing archery and soccer into the list of sports.

The physical education department is being equipped rapidly to meet modern scientific and educational standards and has ecased to be aimless, unorganized, and impractical. Physical education is now, in reality, a department of the college.

Tri-State Athletic Award

Athletic Managers

As an emblem of worth displayed on the athletic field, the campus, and in the classroom, there is awarded every year to one senior in each college of the Tri-State Conference, a gold medal. Virgil Elliott of last year's graduating class was the deserving recipient of this honor for 1928.

"Virg" was without a doubt the most brilliant track star that has ever dwelt in Bethany. His noble accomplishments in the National Decathalon Contests and in Intercollegiate meets will testify to this observation. But the award was not given on the basis of athletic prowess alone. Aside from his scintillating performances on the track he evinced his ability and character as a scholar and a campus leader, bearing himself with grace and culture. He exhibited admirable aptitude as a debater and minister.

Cheer Teaders

To create enthusiasm where there is lethargy, to preserve hope where there is despair, to mold riotous and dissipated screaming into a unified roar of support.....this is the task of a cheer leader.

Recognition is given here to the efforts of those who have had this task at Bethany this year.

Fullback

For four years Fiers has been playing a fine brand of football for Bethany. His clean sportsmanship and ability as a leader have made him a popular favorite among players and fans. Always in the thick of the battle the "Plunging Parson" could be depended on to tear down the opponent or to gain that needed yard.

Football

With a wealth of material that seemed to point to a successful year Bethany entered into the 1928 grid season with high hope of making a creditable showing. However, with Wash-Jeff and Pitt as early season opponents, the first results were very disastrons. After decisively defeating Broaddus the Big Green fared forth to tackle the "Little Presidents." In this game the Bisons played their best football of the season. Wash-Jeff was held to a scoreless tie throughout the first half, but in the second half superior strength showed that W & J was no longer to be stopped. The final result was a 24-0 victory for W & J. After a terrible drubbing, administered by Pitt, the Bisons were badly crippled. They were able to do no better than tie Waynesburg 7-7. All games during the remainder of the schedule were placed on the "lost" side of the ledger.

"Bucky" came to camp last fall in perfect condition, determined to show all opposition that he was to have a place on the Bison team. Although not heavy for a lineman, Price was a heady player who could be depended on to do the right thing at the right time

While not a spectacular player, Jack was continually on the job filling his place on the team in a creditable manner. We are expecting to see Jack back again next year showing that same indomitable spirit.

Freshman

Marietta comes to us from Connellsville High School and Kiski with an athletic record that he is more than upholding at Bethany. His good work won for him the honor of being the only freshman to make the Varsity.

Junior

At times "Biff" was called on to direct the destinies of the team. Although he is not a spectacular player, linel is a cool and collected leader while he is on the field. As a punter he has no equal on the squad. DAMSCHRODER

Junior

Although this was his first year as a varsity end, this lanky wingman was a constant threat to the enemy atack via the air or around the ends. He always proved a hard man for the opposing team's interference to take out of the play. BAKER

Junior

Baker and his spectacular open-field running is a constant threat to any defense. His playing was a treat for Bethany rooters and a source of encouragement to his team-mates. Baker will be with us again next year and we know he will display a fine brand of foothall. BURWELL.

Junior

George was shifted to guard last year to add strength to the line. No man on the team ever showed more fight or was quicker to get down the field on punts than George. Burwell is a tower of strength in the line and will be a valuable man on the team again next year.

Sophomore

"Mal" has made himself famous as a Bison athlete. With a year's experience as an end he came back this year and showed that there was a marked improvement in his style of play. Few were the gains made around this stellar wingman's side of the line.

"Rog" needs to make no excuses for his football playing. He is a steady dependable tackle of the type that would make any coach take note. He plays his position well and is a continual worry to opponents. All opposition beware! KASARDA

Mike, our duminutive half-back has more than demonstrated his ability to compete in collegiate football. For the second time he has earned his "B". Mike excels at open field running and his defensive work is near perfect. BRAMHALL

Junior

Bramhall is the lightest lineman on the squad. By persistent effort and a load of fighting spirit he became one of the regular ends about mid-season. With two more years to play "Brammy" should become a stellar end. PEENE

Like noto the "Man Without a Country", Peenie, throughout last season was a man without a position. But he was in every game as an end or at tackle, and on several occasions he did some fine playing as a fullback. This is Peenc's last year as a Bison gridder. We are sorry to have him leave us.

Forward

Jim came to Bethany from Urichsville, Ohio, widely heralded as a basketball star, and he ably proved his right to this reputation. He was the only freshman to earn a basketball letter this season. His speed, floor work, and accuracy will make him a regular next year.

DAMSCHRODER

Dammy played a consistent, stellar, defensive game throughout the entire season. His special feat was taking the ball off the backboard, and although he didn't shoot often, when he did his shots counted. He likewise received honorable mention on the All Tri-State Conference Team.

"Si" is to basketball what Nick Altrock is to baseball. He kept his teammates laughing with his wit and his opponents weeping because of his skill. With two more years to go he will surely make his mark.

TELFAIR

"Telly" did an outstanding piece of work as pivot man for the Bisons this season, and everyone recognized his worth. Chronicle of the Season

The 1928-29 basketball season will be long cherished in the heart of every loyal Bethanian for it has been the most successful court season the Bisons have ever had, both in the number of victories and in real sportsmanship, having won fourteen out of sixteen games, and eight of them by a one or two point margin.

Even at the beginning of the season the prospects were bright; the five lettermen who were back soon developed into an efficient, well-rounded team. As the season progressed they steadily improved until, toward the latter part, they were nearly invincible.

As a result of their ability they gained several championships. They ranked first in the West Virginia Conference, were tied for first place in the Tri-State Conference, and were only forced to take second in the entire district because Westminster had played more games, both teams having been defeated twice. Thus Bethany finished the season with two first places and one second, certainly an enviable record.

Bethany 51-Fairmont 30

On January 8th the Bisons opened up the season by defeating the Fairmont College Five on the home floor. Although this was an easy game it gave everyone an opportunity to size up the players and raised the morale of both the players and student body.

Bethany 32-Ashland 26

The team left for a two day trip into Obio on January 18th, and the first night they won a victory over Ashland College. Although the opposition was somewhat stronger, Bethany ran up an eight-point margin during the first half and maintained the lead throughout the remainder of the game.

Bethany 31-John Carroll 29

The next night in Cleveland they found an entirely different proposition. The John Carroll men were excellent players, and besides, our men, tired by the journey and previous game, seemed to be unable to score. The first half ended 12 to 10 in favor of John Carroll. In the second half the Bisons staged a rally and finally won by two points. Mal Rush was the outstanding star of this game; he scored ten field goals to his team mate's two.

Bethany 43-W. & J. 22

On January 22nd Bethany seized the opportunity to revenge W. & J. for our football defeat by decisively drubbing them. Even though Coach Nuss used all his substitutes it was a very one-sided game.

Bethany 45-Waynesburg 16

Using all ten men Bethany team nearly tripled the score on Waynesburg by winning a rough and tumble game 45 to 16 at Waynesburg, Pa, on January 25th. Waynesburg didn't even make a good showing because the Bisons were apparently able to score whenever they wished.

Bethany 44—Duquesne 28

Bethany was expecting a real struggle when Duquesne came down to Bethany February 2nd, but she was mistaken. Although the Dukes used a different style of play built around Rosenberg, their big right guard, the Bisons soon caught onto the system and the final score was on the right side of the ledger.

Bethany 15-Genera 13

The Geneva game played at Beaver Falls on February 4th will never be forgotten by the players or spectators. Two days before Geneva had defeated W. Va. U., but the Bisons, supported by abont a hundred rooters were determined to win. During the first period Geneva scened to have a slight edge and the score at the half was 10 to 5 in favor of Geneva. In the second period the Bisons slowly crept up and finally gained a one point lead with a minute to play. A Geneva player was fouled under the basket. He made the first point but missed the second. The score was tied with less than a minute to go. Baker received the ball from the tip-off, faked, dribbled in, and shot a goal. The game ended before the ball had barely touched the floor. Players, officials, and coaches all declared that they had never before seen such a game and never wanted to again. The guarding and teamwork was superb. Dammy even held Tony Paulsey, the Geneva star, to one point.

Bethany 33-Thiel 21

The next night Bethany easily won her eighth straight game by defeating Thiel at Greenville. As soon as the score was safe Coach Nuss used the substitutes in order to save the varsity for the next game.

Bethany 22-Westminster 37

On February 8th the Bisons played again on a strange court for the third time in five days, and suffered their first defeat of the season by losing to Westminster at New Wilmington. This should have been a real game, so about fifty rooters came along with the team, but the boys had become stale and were far from their usual form. The tall Westminster players won an easy victory.

Bethany 32—Allegheny 31

The next night Bethany played Allegheny at Meadville. The Bisons had rested during the day and were determined to make up for the previous evening's defeat. The Allegheny men, although small, made up the fastest team that Bethany had played. In the last few minutes of play and with only a slight lead, Dammy was taken out on fouls. Ronalds took his place and the game ended in Bethany's favor.

Bethany 30-Westminster 29

February 15th the Bethany Five obtained their opportunity to avenge their defeat when Westminster came down to Bethany. The game was bound to be close because both teams had a title at stake. At the end of the first half Westminster lead by one point. During the second period neither team could hold the lead, and finally, just before the whistle, Dammy sank a long one which gave Bethany the game.

Bethany 38-Thiel 32

Theil came to Bethany on the 18th of February with the intentions of evening matters by a victory, but their plans fell flat. Even using all fourteen men Coach Nuss and his squad easily defeated the Thiel aggregation.

Bethany 37—Duquesne 35

Duquesne is always a tough nut to crack on her own floor; moreover, when the Bisons went up to Pittsburgh on February 19th they discovered that the Dukes were greatly improved. In fact the score at the half was 18 to 10 in favor of Duquesne. Nevertheless, during the second period the Bethany team staged a rally and made 27 points and won the game.

Bethany 54—Waynesburg 30

On February 22nd Waynesburg came to Bethany and made a rather feeble attempt to win a decision over Bethany. The score at the half was 34 to 9 in favor of the Green and White, and the game closed 54 to 30 Bethany.

Bethany 30-Geneva 32

Geneva come to Bethany February 26th with blood in their eyes; they were determined to win the game and tie for first place in the Tri-State Conference. It was a battle royal. Bethany managed to keep a one or two point lead most of the time until within a few seconds of the close when Geneva scored a long shot which tied it up at 28 to 28 when the whistle blew. The extra period opened with every one on edge. First, Geneva scored two points and then Bethany tied it up 30 to 30. Finally Geneva gained another goal and the game ended in Geneva's favor.

Bethany 30-W. & J. 29

The final game of the season was with W. & J. at Wellsburg February 28th. The Presidents had improved a great deal during the season and put up a real fight. The Bethany men could not seem to locate the basket and the half ended 20 to 16 in favor of Bethany. In the second half W. & J. came back strong, making 13 points to our 10. Telfair was the outstanding Bethany player and made 14 of Bethany's points. In the last two minutes he was put out on fouls and Ronalds was sent in with only a three point lead. The game ended 30 to 29 in favor of Bethany.

Track, 1928

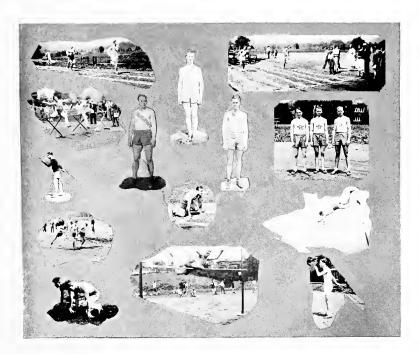

To the 1928 call for track candidates the best performers of Bethany's history responded. Several members of this squad established records that will probably stand for many years in Bethany track annals. Some of them set records in inter-collegiate competition. In the West Virginia University-Bethany dual meet captain Tarr equalled state records in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bethany, without the services of Virgil Elliott in this meet, met a severe defeat. With Elliott still unable to participate at the time of the Tri-State Conference Meet, Bethany turned in a most creditable performance, finishing a close second to Geneva. Bethany easily defeated Wash-Jeff in their annual dual meet, almost doubling the score.

For the third consecutive year Virgil Elliott was entered in the National Decathlon. The 1928 Decathlon, open to all amateurs competing for places on the United States Olympic teams, brought to the Penn Relays the best track and field stars of the country. In spite of this competition Elliott placed fifth.

At the annual Ohio State Relays, Bethany's sprint relay team, in competition with relay teams for many of the country's best colleges and universities, placed second in the 440 and fourth in the 880 yard relays. This team was composed of Elliott, Fasick, Morris, Tarr, and Loveland.

Fiers in the high jump, Markley in the mile and half mile, Cashman in the pole vault, and Malcolm Rush with the javelin, were also outstanding performers and consistent point-getters throughout the season.

The schedule for 1929:

Tennis

During the past several years Bethany's tennis teams have not attained any great degree of success. At the beginning of the 1929 season the prospects for a winning team do not loom large. Bills and Wells both fairly consistent winners of last year's squad, are not in school this semester. However there are several members of the squad remaining, who, with a little improvement over last year's form, should be able to win a few matches for the glory of Alma Mater. Mutchler, Nelson, and Erskine are the only letter-men of last year's squad. Don Dallas, was easily the outstanding Freshman contender for a varsity berth

Interfraternity Baseball

With the passing of varsity baseball as a major sport in Bethany, Inter-fraternity baseball rose to take the place of the popular summer sport. The first season was a decided success because of the sound backing of both the Athletic Department of the college and the various fraternities represented in the league. Interest was at a high pitch throughout the season for each win or loss was responsible for marked change in the standing of the teams. The Betas and Phi Taus played to a 2-2 tie in the first game of the season, and the first place dispute was not settled nutil the Betas won the play-off game by a 4-2 score. The final standing was as follows:

//	on Los	t Petg.
Beta Theta Pi	5 0	1.000
Phi Kappa Tau	4 1	.800
Sigma Nu	3 2	.600
Non-Frat	2 3	.400
Kappa Alpha	1 1	.200
Alpha Pi Alpha	0 5	.000

The Inter-fraternity bischall committee, composed of CARL BENION, Non-frat; CARL HAMIL, Beta Theta Pi; MALCOLM RUSH, Phi Kappa Tau; ROBERT ROF, Kappa Alpha; and AUSTIN COCHRAN, Sigma Nu, Chairman, chose the following All-Interfraternity baseball team of 1028:

Shortstop
Ist Base PRICE, Beta Theta Pi
2nd Base cochran, Sigma Nu
3rd Base M. RUSH, Phi Kappa Tau
Left field A. RUSH, Phi Kappa Tau
Center Field
Right Field FIERS, Beta Theta Pi
Catcher IMEL, Beta Theta Pi
Pitcher WELLS, Beta Theta Pi
Pitcher ROE, Kappa Alpha

Interclass Basketball

Bethany's interclass basketball league this year was a decided success and was intensely interesting throughout the season. Strict elegibility rules were in force which barred all men on the varsity squad as well as any who might be delinquent in their academic work. The four teams were very evenly matched and their work kept interest at a peak throughout the season. The Freshman squad copped the flag in the first half of the season and the Juniors came through to take first place in the second half. In the play-off the Freshmen were victorious, winning two games, each by a 23-21 score.

Through the efforts of the committee composed of Austin Cochran, chairman, George Dice, Alton Behu, and Thomas Addleman, each team Was equipped with reat looking class uniforms. The committee chose the following all inter-class teams:

First Team		Second Team
WYLE	F	IMEL
Е. Веня	F	BRAMHALL
FIERS	C	Thompson
Rodman	G	А. Венм
Pollock	G	МсУыби

Honorable mention: ADDLEMAN, KELLY, BAILEY, SIGWALT.

Interfraternity Basketball

After a lapse of two years interfraternity basketball again became one of Bethany's mid-winter attractions. Because of the creditable manner in which the committee carried on the tournament, this feature of Bethany's interfraternity relations has become definitely established as a part of this program. The Interfraternity Council purchased a large silver cup to be presented to the winner of the tournament. Interest was at the highest possible point as Bethany's Greeks battled for supremacy and possession of the cup. The Sigma Nus reached the finals by defeating the non-fraternity and Alpha Pi Alpha teams in one bracket and Phi Kappa Tau emerged victorious over Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Alpha to play Sigma Nu for the interfraternity trophy. The final game was a hard fought contest which brought out the very best teamwork of the contestants. Phi Kappa Tau came from behind to win a close guarding contest by a 15-11 score. The lineup:

Phi Kappa Tau (15)	Sigma Nu (11)
FISHER (4)	Cochran
Е. Венм	BAILEY
SIGWALT (2)C	Maurer
А. Венм (2)G	Rodman (2)

Baseball, 1929

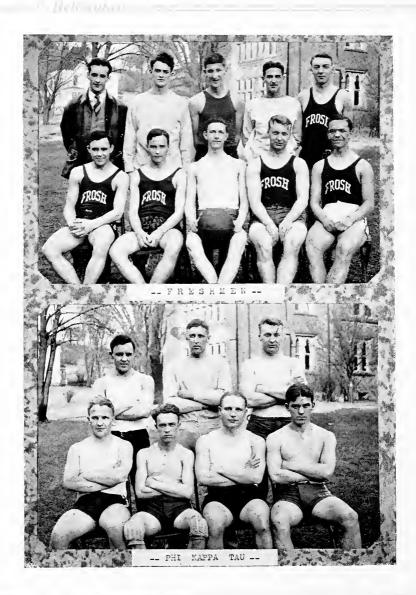

Baseball was not considered a varsity sport at Bethany this spring due to the fact that not enough degree-granting colleges could be carded in order to make up a suitable schedule. Student interest in the sport, as well as material, however, was still existing. With this situation in view the Athletic Board of Control decided to permit the playing of a 12 game schedule which included some non-degree granting colleges, the team playing under the name of Bethany College, but playing on what was termed an informal basis. The Athletic Board backed the team financially out of the regular athletic hudget. College eligibility rules governed the team, as would be the case in any varsity sport.

The playing of this informal schedule was something new in Bethany; in fact, it is a unique undertaking in the whole field of college athletics. The team was student-coached and student-managed. Dale Fiers and Ottic Cochran coached the team, while Arthur Rush served as Business Manager and Forrest Pruitt as Manager. Professor G. S. Bennett acted as a faculty advisor. The first game of the season was won from Fairmont Teachers College at Fairmont, West Virginia, April 12th by a 9-6 score.

Prof. G. S. BENNEIT, Faculty Advisor

An Appreciation

Because of the picturesque and admirable connections that time and friendly associations have woven between him and Bethany, it is proper that the section denoted as College Life shall be prefaced with this slight but earnest symbol of regard for

MILETUS V. DANFORD

In the hearts of Bethany people and numberless alumni he holds an affectionate respect. For a character irreproachable, a patience unending, a demeanor kind and considerate, and an interest truly Bethanian, we pay him a humble tribute. To pleasant memories of Bethany traditions and friendships, we shall add the memory of an acquaintance whom we please to designate "a perfect gentleman."

Midwinter Homecoming

Returning alumni were greeted with an exceptionally clever and attractive program for 1929 Homecoming. It was complete in every detail even to the annual snowstorm along with a decided victory over the Waynesburg cagers by the all-victorious Bisons. However the feature of the week-end presented Saturday evening, February twenty-third, was the enactment of the fanciful yet superlative drama, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back".

The major successes of Homeconing are credited to the General Homecoming Committee composed of: Miss Pearl Mahaffey, Professors J. C. Moos, E. E. Roberts, and H. N. Miller; Alberta Jeffryes, Helen Miller, Cleo Mumper, and Ellsworth Richardson. The powerful acting that made the play such a success was by the following:

Representative Students

Representative Students of Bethany

Following the lead of many college annuals, and believing that those students who, in their mode of living, have been valuable and complimentary to the college should be recognized each year, the 1929 Bethanian has continued the practice instituted last year. Hence, three pages were allotted a faculty committee which was in complete charge of the selection. The committee selected members of the senior class. The careful study made of the entire personnel of the school led the committee to the conclusion that those who should be honored thus should be graduating seniors. The worth of these members of the student body was adjudged on the bases here listed.

Bases of Selection

Character

Constructive Contribution to the College

Leadership of organizations

- Participation in debating, dramatics, publications, athletics, control organizations, etc.
- Contribution to the realization of the college program through influence exerted in a fraternity chapter.

Evincing of school spirit and cooperation.

Any other constructive contribution to the social, religious, intellectual, or physical life of the college.

Scholarship—emphasis to be placed on original and creative thinking. Lack of Destructive Influence

(The implication here being that the constructive contributions may, in some instances, be overbalanced by destructive influences.)

Examples of destructive influence:

Insincerity

Lack of school spirit

Self-centeredness

Unreliability

Conscious effort to gain popularity

The Committee Presents:

Miss Elizabeth E. Green E. Morton Miller MISS RUTH ANN DYE WILLIAM G. KELLY

Iuniors for Honorable Mention

From the members of the Junior Class a selection of students was made on the basis of participation in college activities and for the constructive contribution each has made to the college life. These have not been selected on the same bases as the REPRESENTATIVE STUDENTS who were chosen from the senior ranks. This is a roll of honor for Juniors whose hearts and energies have contributed to the enrichment of student life.

KORRIDOR KOMMENTS

Wical has discovered that Prof. Weimer thinks that "Trailing Arbutus" is a detective story.

Jack Tinson: "No girl ever made a fool out of me!"

Cleo: "Who was it then?"

Prof.: "Have you a date Sunday night?" Espy (with fingers crossed): "Why, no-o-ooo!"

Prof.: "Well, please see that you get to class on time Monday, then."

Pcenie: "Do you know why Benke's mustache reminds me of the story about the Turtle and the Rabbit?"

Cochran: "Nuhuh. Why?"

Peenie: "Because the hare never arrives.

Sally: "What's protoplasm?" Sumple: "It's the living matter in the cell."

Sally: "Oh, I see, a jailbird."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

CAMPUS OUIPS

Bucky Price appears at high school for the first period of observation. Teacher points out the lesson and Bucky takes a back seat, book in hand. Roy Gay ap-pears after an absence of three days.

Teacher (sternly): "Roy, have you studied your lesson for today?" Bucky (sheepishly): "No, mam, 1

Bucky (sheepishly): haven't."

Prof. Miller (to Sociology class): "1 am going to excuse you early to-day. Please walk lightly so that you won't waken the other classes."

Prof. Perry (presenting three dozen copies of Von Luckner's book to the au-thor): "Would you please autograph thor): these?"

Prof. Moos (Standing near): "Gifts for friends?"

Prof. Perry: "No-o-oo. 1 thought it might make them sell better."
